Learn Best Practices in Teaching Tots at the Washington Association for the Education of Young Children Conference October 27 – 29, 2011

Seattle, WA, October 27, 2011 –

Professionals working with young children greatly influence these preschoolers' development. The 35th annual Washington Association for the Education of Young Children (WAEYC) conference is the premier event for providing leading-edge ideas for this critical work.

Priceless Parenting is proud to participate in the WAEYC Conference taking place on Friday, October 28 and Saturday October 29, 2011 at the Meydenbauer Center, 11100 NE 6th Street, Bellevue, WA. The WAEYC Conference brings together over 1,000 early childhood professionals to learn best practices and strategies.

Kathy Slattengren, founder of Priceless Parenting, will be presenting "Stop Fighting!": Handling Conflicts Between Children" on Saturday, October 29th 11:00 am – 12:30 pm. This is a popular topic as Slattengren explained "When kids play together, there are bound to be conflicts. Caregivers and parents are excited to discover and share ideas for overcoming factors that contribute to poor behavior along with learning how to guide children to resolving their disputes."

Slattengren will also be welcoming participants and answering questions at the Priceless Parenting booth. Preschool owners can gather information about how Priceless Parenting's online classes can provide life-changing benefits to parents while also raising money for their schools.
